US Webinars For New System Announced

AdSEND is launching its new and improved system and we're offering a number of training webinars so that users can learn all about it.

Whether you're a sender or receiver in the US, don't miss out on these information packed sessions where you'll learn how to send and receive files using the new system, navigate the new screens, download files, search for publications and much more!

Publishers, including those using AP Satellites and Servers, be sure to attend one of the Receiver webinars where you'll also get an overview of iQ Chaser, the new product that allows you to autownload ads, autoprint job tickets, organize files and more.
